Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment received on September 14, 2004 has been fully considered and entered, but the arguments are not deemed to be persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Oku et al. (US Patent no. 6,710,817) for the same reasons as previously set forth in the last office action mailed on August 20th 2004, paper no. 3.

Regarding the above claims, the applicant argues that Oku's analog signals are standard analog signals, not compatible analog signals that may carry digital video signal. In response to the preceding argument, the examiner reminds the applicant the "may carry" has no patentable weight since the condition to show how the analog signal will carry the digital signal is not claimed. In other words, the claim also calls for situations when the signal will not carry the digital signal. The claim must clearly establish the condition for the analog signal to carry the digital signal.

The applicant further argues that the claim calls for a digital to analog formatter. The examiner reminds the applicant that Oku provides such formatter in fig. 1, converter 16. The examiner reminds the applicant that the arguments must reflect the claimed limitations.

The applicant further argues that in the preferred embodiment of the application, the digital bits of the video are carried in a multilevel pulse amplitude modulated form in the active portion of a compatible analog signal. While the examiner appreciates such explanation, the independent claims are silent about such limitations. In other words, the applicant must actually claim what he/she believes is patentable. The examiner will only consider what is claimed, and claim 1, for example, is considered broad. Oku does meet the limitation of claim 1 and, the effort to find additional prior art is unnecessary at present.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
